Your Website: An Asset or an Impediment?

Consider:

- 70% of Canadians (25.4 million people) go online for product information.
- Canadians are 60 times more likely to conduct a web-search on their smartphone than make a regular phone call to get information about your company, your prices, your reputation, and your competitors. (How effectively is your site taking advantage of this?)
- B2B (business to business) purchasers now use the Internet as a resource significantly more than they use trade shows, magazine ads and in-person consultations.
